

Declan Mulligan

Declan is 37 years old, married with two children. He studied Business and Economics at Trinity College Dublin and graduated with an honours degree. He is a C.I.M.A. qualified accountant.

Declan has been investing in the Stock Market for 10 years with TICN. He collects a monthly income through Selling Covered Calls, Puts and various other option strategies. He trades primarily through the most tax efficient investment vehicle, namely, a self administered retirement trust. However, he also trades personal accounts outside of his pension.

He has his portfolio protected at all times and insured against a downturn in the markets. This is based on experience he has gained over the last 10 years. Declan teaches these principles to his students to help them earn a regular income from the market. He educates via face-to-face workshops and weekly internet based interactive seminars online.

He educates traders on a Monday webinar, namely, the Traders Lounge. This is co-hosted by his investment partner Kieran Mc Mahon. This private web-shop concentrates on evaluating alternative investments options every week.

He also educates TICN members each Wednesday on his web-shop entitled “Financial Watchdog”. This webinar has a strong focus on the financial fundamentals of companies which are potential investments. There is also a focus on tracking the sentiment and news flow (or the ‘heart beat’) of the watch-list companies.

Declan educates TICN members to use the TICN evaluation methodology to help select the very best companies in which to invest. This centres on the TICN mind-map and Value Line financial research information.

Declan was trained by the Power of Three. He has studied under the tuition and guidance of Owen O’Malley, CEO and founder of TICN Ireland Ltd.

James Garza

James Garza is 37 years old and married with 2 children. He has been in the financial services industries for over ten years. In 2003 he joined JPMorgan Chase as a stockbroker.

The team of six brokers James took over was last in the corporate rankings, due to bad performance. In six months he motivated the team, and took their ranking from last to first place. He has been able to train, motivate and support his team to success.

James Garza has relocated to Ireland and is now a mentoring coach with TICN, Teaching courses on how to trade on the stock market using both the traditional classroom approach or online using webinars. James' students emerge from the course with an understanding of the market, and strategies to generate profits on new stocks, or equities in their existing portfolio.

James Garza teaches three courses:

MMCP (Making Money with Careful Planning)

In this introductory course the market is demystified and made simple so that one can have a fundamental knowledge of the markets and the BIR Strategy (Buy-Insure-Rent).

“Back to Basics”

Is a course in which you learn how to plan your trade, use the BIR strategy, manage and maintain your trades. This is a fundamental course on trading from where to start, reading the charts and putting your trading plan together. The course will give you the confidence to start trading and making money immediately.

“Profiting from the Downside”

Is a course that teaches you how to profit when a stock is going down in value. Most people only know how to make money when the stock market is going up and just wait for a stock to recover when it is going down in value. Learn to trade profitably when the market is going down. This strategy is a low risk and has a high reward potential.

Kieran McMahon

Kieran has been trading the Stock Market for 10 years. He collects a monthly income primarily through Selling Covered Calls, Puts and other option strategies. He trades the Stock Market with confidence and coolness because he collects the monthly income regardless of the market movement up or down.

He has his portfolio protected at all times and insured against a downturn in the markets. This experience he has gained over the last 10 years.

Kieran teaches these principles to his students to help them earn an income from the market. His passion and enthusiasm for the business is second to none.

Outside of business he makes time to help in his community. He has coached the local soccer team. They reached the under 17 All-Ireland Semi-Final two years in a row and took the same bunch of lads to the Under 18 All-Ireland Quarter-Final. During 2010, two of those players have signed professional contracts with English Premiership teams, namely, Bolton Wanderers and Wolverhampton Wanderers. Five others have stepped up to the Monaghan United senior Eircom League squad. This illustrates Kieran's fantastic team building attributes.

Kieran teaches on his webinars twice a week, Mondays and Thursdays. These webinars are free support sessions for TICN members. Kieran also educates traders in the powerful Traders Lounge hosted by himself and Declan Mulligan. He is empowering his students to generate an extra income to make a difference in their lives.

Kieran was trained by Blair Singer Co-Founder and CEO of Sales Partners Worldwide and author of three Best Selling books. He also trained under Kieron Sweeney of the famous T. Harv Eker training team. Kieran has studied with Darlene Nelson (another best-selling author from America). Kieran has studied intensively under the tuition and guidance of Owen O'Malley, CEO and founder of TICN Ireland Ltd.

Owen O'Malley

Owen has been coached by 24 of the top investors in the world including Sir John Templeton, (founder of the Templeton Fund, formally the 11th richest man in the world), Peter Lynch of Fidelity and Anthony Robbins. Owen has lectured on 5 continents and his company has educated over 20,000 investors. Owen will teach you how to pick solid companies to invest in at the right time as well as explain to you powerful monthly income producing strategies. Finally Owen will cover how to preserve your capital with protective strategies. Owen lectures are most enjoyable, informative, educational and extremely inspirational. His course material has been translated into 7 languages and delivered in 30 countries to date. His passion is to help others to succeed and free themselves from the rat race of society. His famous saying in relation to helping and supporting his graduates is "You may give up on you before we will give up on you" . His best advice to you is to " do the thing and you shall have the power" in relation to your journey to success.
